

When prospective students can't get to you, let us bring your campus to them.

360° Tour of Chicago's North Park University

360° Tour of ADP's Innovation Lab

As a leading marketing agency in the Higher Education space, we at York & Chapel are extremely tuned in to the many COVID-19 related challenges our nation's schools are currently facing. Among the many unanswered questions is, "How will prospective students be able to safely tour our campus?"

We understand how critical your recruiting process is and we're here to help.

York & Chapel is providing Virtual Reality, 360° and 180° video tour production services just in time for your incoming student tour season. For 20 years, we've been producing captivating video content and animation for learning institutions of all sizes, including Yale, Princeton, North Park University, UCLA, Parsons School of Design, UCONN, and dozens of private high schools throughout North America. Our content creation division, Sugared Studios, is fully staffed to provide you with fast, affordable, and safe virtual video tour production services.

In addition to virtual campus tours, our creative team can show you how to craft video messages that inform your students and their parents how you are responding to the ongoing threat posed by COVID-19.

Prices for virtual tours start at $9,500.
